Dear Friends and Family,

We are anticipating the end of winter as we watch the snow melt away and enjoy above freezing temperatures. From our cottage on the lake, we see the traffic on Lake Winnebago thinning out as fishermen and winter sportsmen pack up and wisely leave the once secure hard ice surface. Our family has enjoyed winter activities including walking on the lake, building snowmen and forts, going to a ski-plane fly-in, and outdoor iceskating!

With spring around the corner and graduation from A&P school less than a semester away, we are finally seeing the end of our goal in sight. Graduation is set for the middle of May with FAA written, oral, and practical exams to follow in the following two weeks after that. While a student, I have an opportunity to buy a certain amount of professional tools. I have not yet purchased half of the allowed discount amount, so I would love the chance to buy more tools for Cameroon. Please contact me if you would like more information on this.

We are scheduled to report to two supporting churches in March and more this summer. We presented our ministry to a new church in Illinois in December, and they voted to take us on for support in January! Thank you to Pastor Farmer and Community Baptist! We would like to present in some new churches this summer to raise more support as we are currently at about 89 percent of our needed support. We need about 5 additional churches to partner with us for our third term in Cameroon. Please contact us if you know of a church that would be interested in having us in this summer.

The tensions in Cameroon are still very high. The country really needs prayer and solutions for the two English regions to live in peace once again. We have a target return time for late summer, so please pray for obstacles to be overcome and for the Lord's will for location on our return. We will have a lot of needs as we set up our house and ministry in a different location from our previous ministry.

Tom Needham's new Sportsman airplane was completed by one of his supporting churches in Oregon. The airplane is now in the Wings As Eagles hangar needing some additional equipment installation and preparation before the delivery flight to Cameroon. I need to get an official checkout for insurance purposes, and the requirement for this is 5 hours of instruction. The cost for instruction, fuel, and expenses for the instructor to fly to Oshkosh may be around $500.

Thank you so much for your prayers and for contacting me about my skin cancer procedures last year. The latest procedure was in December just before Christmas. Medicine was applied all over my face followed by a painful 17 minute blue-light photodynamic treatment that worked to burn the many pre-cancer spots I still had. Praise the Lord for a good followup visit a month later. The affected areas look and feel better than they have in years. I also received a go ahead from my flight examiner to renew my airman medical certificate for five more years.

A belated Happy New Year to each of you! Thank you from us all for your prayers and support!!
